

Learning to Be On Fire for Life

This week we are learning to approach God and welcome him into our hearts and our homes on a more deliberate basis. We are learning to choose to walk a holier more sacred journey into joy and peace.

What are some ways that you can welcome God into your home?

Is there a time each day that you can dedicate to this? If so, when?

What are some ways that you can welcome God into your life?

Is there a time each day that you can dedicate to this? If so, when?

How can you fan your flame and stay on fire for life each day?
