22 Days of Prayer for your PTSD partner:

Howdy PTSD Partner!

Well this is it! We have come to the end of our formal prayer journey, but my prayers for you will not end. Today, I pray that God encircle you with His band of angels and a ring of fire so great that it ignites a fire in you that is so bright and so bold you will only continue to grow in peace, trust, strength and discipline in Him and the life He has planned for you. I pray protection over your life, over your relationship with God, and with those around you. I pray that God lift you up and hold you close to Him. I pray that you can feel His deep, deep love always. I pray a celebration of love and laughter over your life each day for the rest of your life. Thank you for giving me the opportunity to walk this journey with you. I pray that our relationship grows stronger with every step! Have a beautiful day! In Jesus Name We Pray, Amen!
