

Learning to Be On Fire for Life

This last week we are becoming more and more on fire for life. We are choosing to walk a holier more sacred journey into light and love. Learning to make our heart, our home the center of burning love.

Mother Teresa once said "You must make your home a center of burning love, the sunshine of God's love must be in your home first."

Describe the image that you see when you think about the words "sunshine of God's love." _____

How can you reflect that image from your mind and into your heart and let it radiate to the world?

Describe the image that you see when you think about the words "center of burning love"

How can you reflect that image from your mind and into your heart and let it radiate to the world?
