

Opening A Door

Yesterday, we took a moment to be reminded that we only need to knock, and God will listen. As we continue on our journey into more light and love, take a moment to look back at a time when a door was closed for you, but later you realized there was a greater purpose or maybe you realized you were in the wrong place. Then discuss a time when a door was opened for you that you were not anticipating.

Activity for the Heart

Discuss a time when you felt like a door was closed for you.
